

For Working Parents

Connecting Milwaukee families from home to daycare to suburban jobs -- for free.

What is FlexRide Milwaukee?

FlexRide, launched in 2022, is an on-demand, workforce transportation solution connecting Milwaukee residents with suburban jobs beyond the reach of public transit. Think of us like a minibus that comes when you want, where you want – and gets you to and from work for $3 or less each way.

What is FlexRide for Working Parents?

FlexRide for Working Parents goes a step farther to provide free rides for working parents and their kids from home to daycare, from daycare to work, and back.

What Does it Cost?

Thanks to this unique partnership between MobilISE and Employ Milwaukee, and funding from the state of Wisconsin's Workforce Innovation Grant program, rides for working parents are free. And, for parents who qualify, funds may be available to help with the cost of childcare.

Can This Program Lower My Childcare Costs?

Yes. For parents who qualify, funds may be available to help with the cost of childcare. Contact Employ Milwaukee for more information.

Who Qualifies?

Any parent of a child attending a state-rated daycare or early childhood education center within one mile of FlexRide's North Neighborhood Zone – and who works in the North Employment Zone. For eligible daycares and zone maps, visit our website.
